UNIVERSITY WON

A Slow and Uninteresting Game from Lehigh.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., March 30. (Special.)-The University of Virginia base-ball team scored its third victory of the season to-day by defeating Lehigh. The contest was slow and uninteresting, the only features being the clever twirlng of Pinkerton and White. The former of Pinkerton and White. The former sot the better of the argument, striking out ten men and allowing only three hits. Virginia made enough runs in the first inning to win the game. Wills walked, and Curley reached first on J. Grace's error. Summersgill hit an easy one to G. Grace, who threw over first, Wills and Curley scoring. Martin hit to short and summersgill tailied. Martin scored later in Hunt's single to left field. In the lighth Summersgill was sacrificed home by Martin. Three more runs were added in the ninth on hits, by Wills, Curley, and Pinkerton, the latter being for three ongs. Lehigh scored only in the sevent) and ninth, the two runs in the ninth being the result of errors by Hunt and Naile. Pomroy, at third, and James, in centre, carried off the fielding bonors for Lehigh.

HE RESCURED MRS. WHARTON. She Did Not Know Exactly How to Work the Fire Escape.

New York Correspondence Baltimore American.)

Rev. Dr. Wharton has a letter from the fireman who rescued Mrs. Wharton from the Windsor Hotel. The correspondent of with the Richmond College the American called to-night upon Frederick De Issroth, who undoubtedly saved the life of Mrs. Wharton. He is a fireman

"The other day the Chief here said he had seen in the newspapers that a Mr. Wharton wanted the particulars about he rescue of his wife, and, as I had re-orted rescuing a lady of that name, he vised me to answer Mr. Wharton's letme out that I had rescued her. I wrote Mr. Wharton yesterday, and as soon I hear from him I shall tell him all the particulars about the incident. They were briefly that a small woman of refined features attempted to get down from her room on the sixth floor by using a fire-escape in the wrong way. The fireomed to and for which they are escape consisted of a rope with a long and to and for which they are a short end. If Mrs. Wharton had used the short end she could have come lown easily, her speed being regulated by block through which the rope was In the infield, there was but one old man—Dundon—and he played at second instead of at third, as has been his wont, the covered lots of ground, and the chances are that he will be retained in that position. Dolan, at third, was all over the diamond, and kept things on the move throughout. He is a good man, has a good "wing," and whips the oall ever to first like a shot out of a cannon. His arm is troubling him some little now, but he will be in good shape in a day swer, she looked dazed and could not run. This block governed the made to get down the run when the wrong end of the rope, and attempt in taking her down, but she did not answer. She looked dazed and could not speak. I then returned to the fourth floor, frem which the screams of women were coming, but the blaze was then flerce. When, some minutes later, I returned to the ground, I was told that the name of the woman I had taken down was Mrs. Wharton. I supposed that she had recovered from fright and from the injuries the rope had inflicted upon her hands, and had been able to give her name. I reported the name to the police name. I reported the name to the police and the Chief, and thought little of it after that till the Chief told me that Mr. Wharton was auxious for particulars concerning his wife's escape."

De Issroth said he had sent a letter to Dr. Wharton. There is no doubt that De Issroth's quick work saved Mrs. Wharton, but De Issroth himself said he ild only his duty, and can't see that here should be any public interest in the matter. His only regret is that the fire silenced the voices of those for whom he would have risked his life when he re-turned from rescuing Mrs. Wharton.

tional Advance, After Large Recession Earlier-Wheat Erratic-May Practically Unchanged.

in stock prices to-day was very irregular, with net changes mixed, but with losses slightly prevailing. Three stocks-Federal Steel, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, and Manhattan-figured for nearly half the total sales on the Exchange, which were ot much below a million. Fears of rouble over the Samoan situation gave a generally easier tone to the early market, which subsequently advanced, under the leadership of the Flower stocks and Manhattan and Sugar, but later eased off again, on the very high rate for money, 12 per cent, being charged before the close for call loans. The banks early in the day advanced the call rate to 6 per cent. Many brokers and traders had made early provision for loans, which will carry them over until Monday. On the Stock Exchange the rate advanced to 12, and the last loan was 51/4. These fluctuations were movements in many stocks.

Washington advices that the Samoan complications were not serious, together with the confident manipulation of some of the Specialties, were coincident with some of the highest prices of the day for these stocks. Federal Steel, on the largest dealings in any one stock, advanced 7% closing at the highest. The preferred rose %. Brooklyn Transit, which had been very strong and active all the week, remained practically unchanged. People's Gas, another Flower specialty, moved similarity, but on less wide fluctuations, likewise closing about unchanged. DROP IN RAILROADS.

DROP IN RAHLROADS.

There was no news attending the movements in these properties, but a circumstance that attracted much attention was the gradual drop of the railroad stocks, which were affected by the stringent monetary situation, and in a measure were also influenced by the divergence of active operations into the Specialties. Rumors of a possible co-operative arrangement between Manhattan and Metropolitan rose the former $\frac{1}{2}$ and Meropolitan is. Third-Avenue, too, rose 5 points, in expectation that the company's interest would not suffer as much as anticipated by impending legislation.

Sugar retained 2½ points of a 6-point rise coincidentally with the advance in the refined article. Continental Tobacco made a fractional advance, after a large recession in the early trading.

Standard Oil closed at 470\(attail).

The market closed with a heavy undertone.

NEW YORK, March 36.—There has been a fuller inquiry in the market to-day for staple cotions, and a number of bids under sellers' quotations have been turned down. Stocks on all hands continue very light, and prices are steadily adhered to. The dry-goods market is evidently quiet in regard to the cotton-goods situation. Prints and ginghams very firm, Cotton hosiery and underwear in fair demand, for both spring and fall goods. Woollen lines quiet. No change in woollen and worsted dress goods or men's wear fabries.

Speculation in cotton was very slack to-day, local traders having already evened up their accounts in anticipation of the closing of the New York Exchange to-morrow and Saturday, and the closing of the Liverpool Exchange to-morrow, Saturday, and Monday. Local covering and Hguidation upon about even terms were features of to-day's trading. There was very little outside Interest either one way or the other, after some foreign buying orders had been filled. These orders made their appearance on the opening call, and with better English cables than had been looked for, and light receipts, they caused a steady opening at an advance of 1972 points. Later the market ruled easter and generally quiet. From the highest to the lowest prices of to-day the range was a matter of 4 points on the more active positions. Weather news, while somewhat conflicting, made a buillish impression on the market. The official map indicated frosts for parts of the Atlantic localities, but elsewhere conditions were, for the most part, favorable, and planters were reported to be pushing field—work energetically. The market was finally steady and 1 to 5 points net higher.

BERLIN MEDICAL CONGRESS,

Objects of the Meeting Communiented to State Department. (Washington Star.) The State Department has received from the German Ambassador an official programme of the National Medical Congress to be held at Berlin May 21th to 27th next. In an accompanying note the Ambassador says; "The object of the congress will be to facilitate efforts for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis, to lead said efforts into the right channel by a discussion of their proper scientific basis, and to bring about the greatest harmony possible as regards the most suitable measures. The subjects to be discussed comprise 'Propagation,' 'Actiology,' 'Prophylaxis,' 'Therapeutics,' and 'Management of Hospitals,' The discussion will be in the German language, although by permis sion of the president another language may be used. "Inasmuch as the effort to stamp out tuberculosis as an endemic disease is now being made in almost all countries, a that foreign countries, as it is in Germany, it is to be presumed that foreign countries generally will be interested in the work of the congress."

The Ambassador sends copies of a circular issued by the German Central Comthat societies interested in the prevention also transmits an invitation to the United States to send semi-official delegates the congress.

> It is Natural. (Hartford Courant.)

The ordering of the Raleigh to Tomp-kinsville, in order that the New Yorkers may have a patriotic holiday, has caused deep displeasure in Virginia. The Raleigh was built at the Norfok yard. She bears the name of a southern city. The Norfolkers were making arrangements to give her a great welcome on her home-coming. They had invited many North Carolinians, including the lady who broke the bottle of champagne against the Raleigh's prow and gave her her name, to assist as their guests at the reception. Naturally the news that New York is to do the re-ceiving has tried their temper sorely.

The rolls are now open for new members for the season of 1899-1900. From ten to fifteen superb attractions will be given. Membership fee $5, each member entitled to two (2) reserved seats at each entertainment. Application blanks may be obtained at the office of the
